

An example of excellent craftsmanship

Address: Argalasti

Description: This two-story, stone house is an example of excellent construction craftsmanship from the past. The ingenious combination of stone and locally sourced chestnut wood is what keeps this building in technically perfect condition despite its age. This detached stone house with its stone storeroom and outdoor wood-burning oven is in need of complete renovation, although the exterior walls are in excellent shape. This unique property has easy access by car and is just a few minutes' walk from Argalasti square. From the house as well as from the garden you will enjoy uninterrupted mountain views.
